News from the ASD...

THE HERALD

UPDATE FROM THE ASSOCIATION OF SOUND DESIGNERS

ASD
ASSOCIATION of SOUND DESIGNERS

The May Herald

Der spring is sprung
Der grass is riz
I wonder where May's Herald is?

We're sorry that this month's Herald is a bit late - but we're here now, with training videos, the usual product news, signs of the ASD joining the mad whirl that is social media, and further questionable growth to the "In other news..." section!

ABTT

We'll be exhibiting at ABTT again this year. Come visit us at Stand 81 in the Green Hall. Swing by and pick up an ASD Sharpie!

Facebook

As most of you are probably aware, we've set up a closed Facebook group for members. We'll be using it to get news to you more speedily and as another place to discuss things. If you haven't joined already visit here and click the "Join Group" button.

Seminar Videos On Line

Two new seminar archives are online now...

Introduction to QLab v3
A walkthrough of the new features, and guest appearance from Chris Ashworth explaining some of the new features and doing a Q&A.

Creative manipulation of sound
Gareth Fry's talk at PLASA Focus Leeds

Follow on Twitter

Email us

Future Events

The Theatre Sound Colloqium

28th June
More info

AutoCAD for Beginners

23rd July
More info

Product News

Well, we should probably do the big ones first - QLab 3 is here complete with iPad control!

Zoom have released their new flagship handheld record the Zoom H6.

Stage Research have announced a significant update to SFX,
Timax have released some tutorial videos,
and Boom have released some outdoor impulse responses.

In other news... Birdsong and Washboards

Before you brazenly hurl a curlew in to you latest soundscape, you may wish to cast your eyes over this article from the BBC, that explores some of the more outré uses of birdsong. And finally for this month, we've had MIDI Accordions, we've had Laser Harps, now this ... http://www.traginerwashboards.com/